

THE VOICE OF UPPER LACHLAN SHIRE, THE SHIRE OF VILLAGES

NOVEMBER 2020

Pool Attendant Grace Martin and Senior Pool Attendant Graham Rutherford on the first day of duty at Gunning Swimming Pool.

Gunning Pool set for summer

Gunning Swimming Pool is ready and raring to go after the completion of $130,000 worth of upgrades and improvements.

Council has completed Stage 1 of the renovations at the Gunning Pool just in time to celebrate summer. An outdated chemical dosing unit has been replaced with an automated dosing system that monitors and automatically adjusts chemical dosing as required.

Both the main pool and the baby's pool will have their own new pump and filtration systems to meet current standards.

Council General Manager Colleen Worthy said that these installations will improve the water quality for the benefits of all patrons and the pool lifeguards.

"This will make your swimming experience even better than last year," she said.

"Locals and visitors are encouraged to enjoy these upgrades to the Gunning Swimming Pool over summer, with more improvements to follow next season."

The equipment that has been replaced was installed during the original construction and has been found to have leaking pipes and poor reliability

In addition to the $130,000 spent on the pump and filtration system, Council has secured $49,107 funding from Veolia Mulwaree Trust to provide a permanent shelter, benches and a water bubbler.

Council will be contributing a further $30,000 to the Gunning Swimming Pool Shade and Seating Project to begin when this season is completed.

Gunning Swimming Pool officially re-opened on Saturday 7th November. Admission Fees for this season are Adults ($6), Children ($3) and Senior/Pension Concession ($3). Children under 2 can enter for free. Season tickets are also available.

Libraries promote healthy living with new books

The Upper Lachlan Shire Library Service has added new non-fiction books to its collection, thanks to an Upper Lachlan Landcare Donation worth $120.

The new books complement a talk given by local dietician Jenelle Croatto at a recent Upper Lachlan Landcare health talk. The talk and purchase of books was a result of Upper Lachlan Landcare successful application for a Primary Health Network Coordinare Grant.

The new books are full of super-practical, sensible advice on how to eat healthy, nutritious food and how to cook delicious home-cooked food at home. These items were selected based on health professional advice, library members and staff suggestions.

Upper Lachlan Shire Council's Manager, Library Services, Michaela Olde, said the new books will help de-myth misleading health messages on food and provide useful advice on how to create a happier and healthier you.

"More and more of our community want to know how to eat a healthier balanced diet, and these books will provide some useful advice and tips to do this," Mrs Olde said.

"On behalf of Council and the community I would like to thank the Upper Lachlan Landcare for their generous donation."

The books will be available from both the Crookwell and Gunning libraries.

From the Mayor's Desk

I've commented a lot about the obstacles that have been thrown our way this year, but I think the take away point for me is just how resilient, innovative and adaptable we have all been.

In Gunning, the annual Art Festival was run online this year and was not only a huge success, it has also been used as a template by other groups running virtual events. The Crookwell Garden Festival also went online and the traffic indicates that it was also a success.

The Taralga Fire Brigade made such good use of drones in their fire management that members of the brigade will assist the NSWRFs in formulating protocols that will be used across the state.

Lindner Socks increased their focus on online promotion and sales and have recorded record growth. And what could be more iconic in this shire than a successful spud? The "Andean Sunrise" potato grown by Gourmet Potato Kadwell was named the best potato in the delicious/Harvey Norman Produce Awards 2020 earlier this year, and business co-owner Garry Kadwell was also recently named Producer of the Year.

Amidst the dramas and turmoil of 2020, some businesses and organisations have adapted and experienced great success. But many, despite their very best efforts, have been severely impacted by the combination of droughts, floods, fire and COVID.

The state and federal governments have done a lot to assist recovery, but some of the most practical help is the type we can do together as a community... and that is to shop local. Shopping locally is always a good practice, but now more than ever... that Christmas Gift, that new piece of furniture... wherever you can, help a local business. It could be the thing that keeps them afloat.

There are also other ways than financial we can help. This year has really taken a toll on many people's physical and mental health, so reach out to people you can see are doing it tough. And very importantly, don't forget to take care of yourself.

2020 is almost gone and most of us will be glad to see the back of it. And while we don't know what 2021 holds in store, we have witnessed and can be certain that the people of our Shire will support each other through whatever challenges we face.

From the GM's Desk

There are a lot of ways you could describe this year. At the very least, I think you'd have to concede that it's been challenging.

A pandemic, one of the state's worst bushfire seasons, and water restrictions in the Shire where normally they aren't needed... these have all been considerable challenges, and we are still dealing with the implications and repercussions.

I haven't been here quite a year yet, but being here in this particular year has immersed me in the Shire. I have met generous, community-minded people reaching out to others in need, I have seen creative people looking for ways to keep their businesses afloat and I have seen resilient people bouncing back from trials and tribulations.

So even though I haven't been here long, it FEELS much longer, and I feel very much a part of the various communities within the Shire.

There have also been a number of localised trials thrown our way, including repairs needed to the Crookwell Pool, the Taralga Dam and the Wombeyan Caves Rd to name a few. Maintaining infrastructure will always be a central focus of Council. It's not glamorous and often it goes unnoticed, but ensuring safety is one of the most important roles a Council can play.

But we also note that there is more to Council than just fixing things. Council is committed to providing a vision for the Shire for residents and to those who might choose to relocate here. We aim to showcase our vibrant and exciting Shire to the world and to attract new residents and businesses. And we are also committed to making life for locals as enjoyable and productive as possible.

As you are reading this, no doubt you can reflect on the plans you've made this year that had to be changed. You may have had to adjust, adapt and respond to the unfolding situations around us and modify your plans as needed.

It's been the same for Council. We are all in this together. We live together, work together and all want to see the Shire come through this as undamaged as possible. Thanks for letting me be a part of your Shire in 2020 and I look forward to working with you all in 2021.

Upper Lachlan libraries abolish library fines for overdue items

If you have been avoiding your local library because of overdue fines for late items, we have some good news for you. Upper Lachlan Libraries will no longer be charging late fines on overdue items.

If you have a Library item at home that you haven't returned because of late fines, please drop it in the returns chute/box and start borrowing again, even if it's years overdue. Fees will still apply for the replacement of lost or damaged items.

Be Your Best Self with New Library Books

Our libraries have added new non-fiction books to its collection, thanks to an Upper Lachlan Landcare Donation worth $120. The new books compliment a talk given by local dietician Jenelle Croatto at a recent Upper Lachlan Landcare health talk. The new books are full of super-practical, sensible advice on how to eat healthy nutritious food and how to cook delicious home-cooked food at home. The new books will help de-myth misleading health messages on food and provide useful advice and tips on how to create a happier and healthier you.

New seating and book tubs for the Children's Room at the Crookwell Library

The new seat will provide a comfortable space for children and adults to sit. Parents, grandparents and caregivers will no longer have to sit on the small hard plastic seats in the space, but will be able to comfortably sit with children and enjoy reading a book, or interacting with their children.

The new book tubs will enable the learning to read series of books to be more accessible to children.

eSmart

Upper Lachlan Libraries is in the process of obtaining a nationally recognised status as an eSmart Library. eSmart Libraries is a partnership between The Alannah and Madeline Foundation and Telstra.

eSmart is a world-wide cyber safety program designed to better equip libraries and connect library users with the skills they need for smart, safe and responsible use of technology.

As part of gaining accreditation as an eSmart Library we will be creating guidance to help you behave safely online; and reviewing our policies and procedures.

Upper Lachlan Libraries need your help in creating these documents. We have developed a questionnaire to gather information about the levels of digital literacy and cybersafety awareness of users of our library service.

Our intention is to identify any digital literacy and cybersafety needs, and provide ways to address them for library users such as you. This is a voluntary and anonymous survey, and all data will be kept confidential. The survey is available at both Crookwell and Gunning Libraries for you to complete.

TOURISM HAPPENINGS from the Upper Lachlan Tourist Association

What a horrendous year 2020 has turned out to be. Back in January, it was hard to imagine that it could get worse than the drought, fires and floods. But it did. COVID19 upped the ante – what should have been a year jam packed full of fun, was instead a year of stress for our tourism businesses and the whole community. The resilience of our local businesses and the support they have received from both near and far has been truly inspiring.

Happily, it finally looks like we are turning the corner with COVID19. Coupled with the recent rains and subsequent lush green growth around our Shire, we now head into the Christmas Season feeling more optimistic and excited than we have all year!

Great News!

We thought we should share with you some good news: two of the Upper Lachlan's hard working producers have achieved extraordinary success, taking out top gongs in Australia's most prestigious food industry competition, the 2020 delicious. Harvey Norman Produce Awards, and putting the Upper Lachlan on the map at the same time.

An incredible achievement, Crookwell local legend Garry Kadwell, of The Gourmet Potato-Kadwell, has been crowned national 2020 Producer of the Year. Judge Matt Moran had this to say: "I recently went to Garry Kadwell's farm and saw his whole production. This product is an absolute standout – I've never tasted better potatoes. And the farm has a beautiful story, in an area that's been growing potatoes for more than 100 years."

And congratulations too to Taralga's Luke and Pia Winder, of Tathra Place Free Range, for taking out the 2020 Unearthed Next-Gen Producer award. Judge Peter Gilmore said he was impressed by the couple, saying, "Luke and Pia are the most passionate young farmers I've come across in a long time. They approach things with a strong emphasis on sustainability, crop rotation and soil health. They have a holistic plan for the future, and it's encouraging to see this raw passion translate to consistency, reliability and quality."

Now in its 15th year, the Awards celebrate the new, innovative, native and consistently outstanding Australian ingredients grown, caught, sourced or produced with dedication, passion, knowledge and regard for the environment. It is so wonderful to see the acknowledgment of the hard work and commitment put in by these two outstanding producers. Well done!

Crookwell Garden Festival

We would like to also give credit to the hardworking organisers of the 2020 Garden Festival who, faced with difficult COVID19 restrictions, pulled together an absolutely fantastic virtual festival this year and we were pleased to be able to assist them in that project.

You can now visit the Crookwell Garden Festival's Facebook page or the Festival's website, www.crookwellgardenfestival.com, to take breathtaking tours of nine of Crookwell's most outstanding cool climate gardens, including Binda's The Mill, and the famous Markdale Gardens, designed by Edna Walling. There are also terrific presentations from guest speakers on composting, roses and local horticulture.

Be prepared to be blown away by how stunning Crookwell looks this spring. All our local gardeners' and the Festival Committee's hard work really paid off. Check it out for yourself now!

2020/21 Event and Cultural Activity Grant Recipients

The Upper Lachlan Tourist Association was pleased to be able to financially support events and activities that aim to bring economic and social benefits to the Shire through its annual grant rounds.

After assessing some high quality applications for Tourism Event and Cultural Activity grant funding for 2020/21, the Association was pleased to support the following organisations and projects:

- New Tourism Event: Gunning Arts Festival
- Existing Tourism Events: Crookwell Garden Festival and the Taralga Vintage Farm Field Days
- Cultural Activity: Flashwrite Project, Taralga Art Show Workshops and the Crookwell 200 Church Service and Picnic.

All of the organising committees are staffed by hardworking volunteers who make a great contribution to their local areas.

The Association would like to wish the organisers great success and we encourage the community to support their efforts by getting involved as a volunteer, contributing to the projects or by simply attending the events.

Supporting Local Tourism Businesses

Within Council's Tourism function we have continued to work hard to help local groups and businesses deal with the myriad of challenges of 2020. During the COVID19 pandemic, we pivoted our monthly e-news into a weekly newsletter to share information as quickly as possible about what support was available to businesses and to provide upskilling opportunities on a more regular basis.

As things have started to settle down, we have reverted back to the monthly format, still jam packed with useful information for our local tourism businesses. If you think that our industry e-news could be of benefit to your business or group then please send us an email to info@visitupperlachlan.com.au and we will add you to the list.

Recovery campaign content now live, with more on the way!

The NSW Government, via its tourism agency Destination NSW, developed a Tourism Recovery package, "Now's the time to love NSW", to help the state recover from the various challenges of 2020. We are pleased to advise that the Upper Lachlan is part of this initiative.

The first phase focused on helping the Taralga region who were severely impacted by fire and flood even before the pandemic. Under the program, we shot beautiful features for the Abercrombie Ridge Country Retreat, Taralga Wildlife Park and the Taralga Hotel. You can view these on to our Visit Upper Lachlan Facebook, Instagram or Youtube channel and our website www.visitupperlachlan.com.au.

Thanks to the support of many businesses around the Shire, we are now in the final stages of preparation for our upcoming "Discover" campaign. Spring has allowed us to capture some amazing footage that showcases the region at its absolute best and we look forward to sharing it over the summer months as we invite people to Discover the Shire of Villages.

Full details of the campaign and how you can get involved in spreading the word will be released in the coming weeks!

Using social media to attract more visitors to our region

Did you know that visitors increasingly rely on applications like Facebook and Instagram to research their next holiday – where to go, where to stay, what to eat and what to do? They see a picture of something they like and want to experience it for themselves. That is why we spend so much time making sure our own Visit Upper Lachlan Facebook and Instagram accounts are as attractive as possible and showcase our diverse businesses and experiences.

We try to draw more of these visitors to our beautiful region, to increase the length of their stay and to encourage them to spend more of their money in our local businesses. This is increasingly important in the current times, given COVID19 has effectively ruled out overseas travel and all domestic destinations compete for the Australian 'holiday at home' market.

If you haven't already, please sign up to follow us: on Facebook (@upperlachlantourism) and Instagram (@upplachtourism), and encourage your friends and family to too! Include #visitupperlachlan in your social media posts so we don't miss what you have to say. The more hits and likes we can get for our Upper Lachlan community together the better for all of us!
